RICHLANDS.

Last April we began to advertise our town lots, making at that time a number of statements in regard to what we would do. Through the non-completion of the Clinch Valley extension of the Norfolk and Western our railroad facilities at that time were very limited. We had no railroad station and, indeed, one old farmhouse was the total sign of life about the place. Since then the railroad has erected a fine brick and stone freight station, one of the largest on the road, and will shortly erect a fine passenger station, while the Clinch Valley Company has spent, or is under contract to expend, $350,000. A four-story hotel, the finest in Southwest Virginia, is under roof; a handsome iron bridge, of 180 feet span, crosses the Clinch river; two second-class hotels have been built, and a large number of stores are building under contract. The company has erected a handsome three-story building for its offices, and a fine stone bank building is nearing completion. Machinery for the rolling mill is on the grounds, and the track to the coal mines, three miles away, is completed, and coal is now coming out. A steam brick plant, the most complete in Southwest Virginia, is in operation, and a large amount of grading and other work is going on. This work attracts a great deal of attention, while Richlands is merely at the end of a non-completed line. The completion of the Clinch Valley division this fall, and the running of through trains between Washington and Louisville, putting Richlands immediately on a through line, will give an impetus to the prosperity of the town sufficient to throw it ahead of all competitors, and the attention of investors is called to real estate here as giving greater promise than any town in Southwest Virginia.

FIRST SALE OF LOTS

AT BUCHANAN, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 29.

The CENTRAL LAND COMPANY of Buchanan will receive up to 1 o'clock P. M., Wednesday, October 29, 1890, applications for the purchase of lots plotted on its maps and priced in the schedule accompanying the same, at the prices named in the schedule. Should there be but one application for any lot, it will be sold to the party making such offer. Should there be more than one offer for the same lot it will be sold at once to the highest bidder; but no one will be permitted to bid on a given lot but those who had previously made an offer for the same.

Terms of Sale: One-third cash; balance in one and two years with interest secured by deed of trust.

Maps, schedules, etc., will be ready for distribution October 9, and will be sent on application. Excursion tickets good from October 28 to 30 inclusive, will be sold from all points. It is urged that in view of the large number of buyers that will be present at the sale, those desiring to examine the property should do so before the day of the sale. No place in the South offers superior advantages to the investor, the manufacturer, or as a place for residence. It is on two lines of railroad, the Chesapeake and Ohio and the Norfolk and Western, (S. V. R. R.) and the building of two others, the Baltimore and Ohio and Virginia Western seems well assured. It has competing coal: is within easy distance of the New River and Flat Top coals; is at the gateway to the magnificent deposits of iron ores of the Upper James; the limestone for the Roanoke furnace is mined here; it has glass sand, and sand for silica brick and foundry purposes at its very door, in a word is an ideal manufacturing site. It is in a healthy situation, amid the mountains, on the James River where it cuts across the Valley of Virginia, with a temperate climate free from the extreme heat of the further South and the severe winters of the North. Over $175,000 worth of buildings will be under construction the day of sale; streets graded, water works and sewerage provided for; electric light plant under construction; the finest hotel in Virginia building; manufacturing plants going up, a $50,000 steel railroad and highway bridge being erected to belt the town. #### THE BLONDIN HORSE.

Adam Forepaugh, Jr., Trains a Pony to Walk the High Rope.

Adam Forepaugh, Jr., has succeeded in doing what no animal trainer ever before accomplished—the training of a horse to walk a high rope, suspended thirty feet in the air. Blondin, the intrepid little pony that performs this remarkable feat, is one of the most intelligent animals in the world. He seems to enter heartily into the zest of the exhibition, and when, occasionally, he misses his foothold upon the narrow rope and falls into the net spread out to catch him, he exhibits all the chagrin of an expert circus performer who has temporarily failed in his act, and springing out of the net runs up the incline leading to the rope and once more essays the difficult feat. His success and the applause that follows is understood and appreciated by the brave pony, and he walks off bowing and as proud as Lucifer. It took six months of constant work to train Blondin, and the task was accomplished by first teaching him to walk a cable on the ground and then gradually elevating it. Blondin is but one of the many great features of the Forepaugh and Wild West Combined Shows, which exhibit in Roanoke next week.

HUSTINGS COURT.

The following are the proceedings of the Hustings Court yesterday:

Luther Miller qualified as a notary public.

The Commonwealth vs. Easter Robinson, an appeal from a justice of the peace, continued to the November term.

The Commonwealth vs. Chas. Morton, an appeal from the Mayor, on motion of commonwealth's attorney dismissed.

The Commonwealth vs. John T. Boyd, for felony, continued to November 4th.

A motion for a new trial in the case of the Commonwealth vs. George Smith for a felony, who was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary, will be heard this morning.

"Amorita" at the Opera House.

The Marie Greenwood Opera Company gave Czubka's beautiful comic opera, "Amorita," last evening. There is some legal dispute as to whether this company or Pauline Hall owns the right to produce this in America, so it was given under the title of "The Hermit."

The music is of the most pleasing character. The choruses are particularly effective and were developed last night with excellent force and fullness.

Miss Greenwood took the title role, in which she is seen to great advantage. As might be expected, Miss Marie Taylor made a most attractive Angelo. Mr. Mayer, as the ambassador from Morocco, used his fine baritone with great empassment. Mr. Culberson has a better part as Fra Bombarda than fell to his lot in "Boccaccio." The comedians restrained their tendency to gag and interpolate to some degree, and would do well to stick still more closely to the legitimate and play less for the gallery.

The chorus handled the grand march and drill in the second act in fine style and well up to Casino standard. The dancing song at the close of the act is beyond question the best piece of light operatic work ever done in Roanoke.

The house was crowded and Manager Beckner had the satisfaction of entertaining something like a hundred Iron and Steel delegates who found their way in during the second act. To-night Lecoeq's "La Fille du Madame Angot" will be given, and it is further announced that Manager Beckner has succeeded in engaging the company for Saturday night also, when "Boccaccio" will be repeated.

THE TIMES receives and prints daily five times as much telegraphic news as any other paper in Roanoke.
